A Professional Learning Day Exploring What Students Need To Thrive In A Fast-Changing World.

EduFest WA Bunbury 2026 has been designed for educators ready to explore how schools can prepare young people for a world being reshaped by technology, automation and changing workforce expectations, while continuing to strengthen the human capabilities that matter most.

Across the day, attendees will unpack how educators can design learning experiences that build curiosity, adaptability and a genuine love of learning, helping students develop the skills needed to thrive in an increasingly digital world. From artificial intelligence and digital tools through to wellbeing, mindset and human capability, the day explores how schools can equip young people not just to keep up with change, but to grow through it in ways that are meaningful within regional communities.

What The Day Includes

Across the day, attendees will explore practical ideas, fresh perspectives and real examples designed to strengthen learning in a rapidly changing world. Each session is built to spark thinking, encourage collaboration and help attendees shape next steps for their own context.

Future Focused Keynotes & Panel Discussions

Fresh insights into the trends shaping education, young people and the capabilities students will need in an increasingly automated world.

Practical Masterclasses

Three short, high-impact sessions exploring digital tools that enhance learning, designing learning students want to return to and building human capability through relevant, real-world experiences.

Educator Design Sprint

A hands-on opportunity to workshop ideas, strengthen existing learning experiences and explore solutions for your own school context.

Community Connections

Industry, government and community voices join the afternoon to hear ideas, share perspectives and help strengthen local opportunity.

"Being here in person, was a huge advantage to collaborate in person with people from our region. Having the industry partners in person as well was amazing to create those connections. Thank you so much for the day."
- Past Attendee

"Loved the opportunity to network and hear from industry professionals. Gave me some good ideas to use in the classroom and the beginnings of an innovative way to help students prepare for the future workforce"
